Corporate Guidance Service
Small and medium-sized companies (SMEs) engaged in research play a key role in innovation and create employment. To obtain fast-track information on research and innovation funding, companies can contact the Corporate Guidance Service, which offers individual and customised advice on the available funding for a planned project.

E-Mobility Guidance Service
To ensure funding activities for companies and research institutions are transparent and customer-focused in the area of e-mobility, the Federal Government has established, under its Electromobility Development Plan, an E-Mobility Guidance Service as part of the Advisory Service on Research and Innovation Funding. The E-Mobility Guidance Service helps to identify suitable funding programmes in this area, advises on Federal e-mobility research funding, and supports the application process.
